Profile

A creative stylist and costume designer who has worked extensively across moving image and stills projects including advertising/commercial, features, shorts and editorial.

I am confident and skilled in presenting concepts to clients and take pride in meeting budget requirements and deadlines, always looking to exceed expectations for my department. I believe in clear and regular communications to ensure everyone is heading towards the same goal. An encouraging and motivating leader, I always make sure any team I lead are up to speed with trends in design, fashion and interiors, which is essential for a creative output.

I have an extensive network of brands, resources and collaborators to assist me in producing the most stimulating and original works possible, to fit the brief given.

Proud to give back, I spent several months during lockdown volunteering with The Fashion School's project sewing scrubs alongside British designers for the Royal Brompton Trust.
