About:

With over 8 years in the industry, I have directed and shot a range of projects and films from intimate classroom settings, to large scale battlefields. With enthusiasm and versatility, I enjoy working with clients to utilise and deliver their vision and ideas on the set and in the edit, whether we're working with talent, children, objects or animals. With strong communication, high enthusiasm and real passion for visual story telling, I welcome projects of all description, and look forward to working together to make unique and unforgettable content.

Based in London (Marylebone) and willing to travel. Drive and have my own car.
