

JAMES DUDDY

I am confident in my ability to deliver and in my approach to interfacing and helping across most departments. Working with various ones early in my career means I can appreciate their idiosyncrasies. I moved to commercial work when the industry began to slow down and I'm proud to now have a foothold in both areas of the industry whilst also stretching myself to run sets on smaller shoots.

Being a working actor, means I can quickly build rapport to have strong working relationships. Especially when interfacing with High Profile Cast. I am reliable under pressure all whilst bringing a great energy onto sets. I love getting hands-on and being part of a team that values a strong work ethic, supports one another and enjoys a bit of camaraderie on set.

Great Experience with interfacing with High Profile Cast and Crew .
