Additional Information

Although my experience in the running world may be slightly limited, I am a fast learning and skilled individual. I enjoy working under pressure and performing to a higher standard than is expected. From the jobs I have had prior to running, I have developed a set of skills that are conveniently transferable. I am able to carry out a series of jobs at once, keeping in mind the importance of the tasks and completing them to the appropriate standard. I have worked with a large range of people and am able to understand and appreciate people's expressions and to keep in mind the aspect of a team when working on a job. I have a full and clean UK Drivers License, I am London based, but am happy to shoot on location around the UK.
