Additional Information

Although my experience in the running world may be slightly limited, I am a fast learning and skilled individual. I enjoy working under pressure and performing to a higher standard than is expected. From the jobs I have had prior to running, I have developed a set of skills that are conveniently transferable. I am able to carry out a series of jobs at once, keeping in mind the importance of the tasks and completing them to the appropriate standard. I have a full and clean UK Drivers License, I am London based, but am happy to shoot on location around the UK. I have also recently completed a Level 3 Emergency First Aid at Work course, meaning that I am able to carry out basic emergency aid should it be necessary.
